

Rows are human labels and columns are model labels. The high Other count makes accuracy look strong; macro F1 and individual recalls are more informative. Planet results are descriptive only because the holdout has n=2 real planets